ROUTE CHECK

Confirm New York City, Los Angeles, and Grand Canyon each have a clear purpose. If the route feels rushed, remove one base before cutting every day short.

STAY CHECK

Before booking hotels, check whether the area supports morning sightseeing, evening food, transport access, and easy returns after long days.

TRANSPORT CHECK

Use domestic flights for coast-to-coast travel, then plan car rental, parking, park entry, and desert driving carefully.

FOOD AND BUDGET REMINDER

Neighborhood pizza, bagels, diners, food halls, tacos, Korean BBQ, farmers markets, road-trip snacks, and park picnic supplies. City hotels, observation decks, theme parks, car rental, parking, fuel, and national-park logistics drive the total.
